THOSE WERE THE DAYS PEOPLE HISTORY

Frame Janet (1924) Gifted novelist. She was born in Dunedin and educated at Dunedin Teachers Training College and Otago University. She was first published in 1951 when The Lagoon and other stories appeared, but gained international attention with Owls so Cry in 1957. Other novels include Faces in the Water (1961), The Edge of the Alphabet (1962) and many more. As a young person she suffered years in and out of hospital. She has been adulated by overseas writers and critics, including Nobel Prize for literature winner Patrick White.

Writing a novel is not merely going on a shopping expedition across the border to an unreal land: it is hours and years spent in the factories, the streets, the cathedrals of the imagination.
